FARMINGTON

ART GALLERIES • UMF • SUMMER FEST CHESTER GREENWOOD DAY • RECREATION

armington, the county seat and largest town in Franklin County, is known for its four-season recreation, retail district, and a vast array of cultural and educational offerings. The town has a broad selection of specialty shops, art galleries, restaurants, cafes, ice cream shops, a multi-screen movie theater and drive-in, bookstores, lodging, skiing, and a busy college campus. You can spend the day shopping, enjoy the local culture, or experience the outdoors.

No matter the time of year, Farmington has a reason to celebrate. Festivals in the downtown area occur every season offering fun, food, activities for people of all ages, and often bring discounts at local merchants. Mid-September brings food, carnival rides, livestock, truck/tractor pulls and the demolition derby as the annual Farmington Fair gets underway. You can buy locally grown and locally made produce and products at farmers markets in the downtown area off Front Street and Main Street in the months of May through October. In the fall the farmers market moves indoors to the grange hall on Bridge Street for the winter.

Farmington's location in the western mountain foothills makes it easy to find outdoor activities to enjoy. Whether you choose a leisurely stroll, a more vigorous hike, biking, kayaking, canoeing, ice or open water fishing, skiing, ATVing, or snowmobiling, you have access to it all in Farmington. There are several different options for walking in town with many trails from which to choose. Flint Woods, located on Anson Street, features nature trails and offers opportunities to spot wildlife. The Whistle Stop Rail Trail, located off Farmer Lane, features more advanced hiking and mountain biking opportunities. Winding through residential and woodland areas of Farmington, Wilton, Livermore Falls, and Jay, the trail is also available to ATV's, snowmobiles and horses.

Kayaking and canoeing are available on the Sandy River. There are multiple pick up and drop off locations available for short trips. For a longer excursion, you can start in Strong and paddle the 11 miles to Farmington. Titcomb Mountain offers affordable family-oriented outdoor fun with hiking, biking, as well as alpine and cross-country trails.

Not only is Farmington family friendly, it is also a great place to have a business. In 2015 Farmington was designated "Certified Business Friendly" by the Maine Department of Economic and Community Development. For more information on Farmington or things to do in Farmington, contact the Franklin County Chamber of Commerce.

SPENDING THE DAY IN FARMINGTON

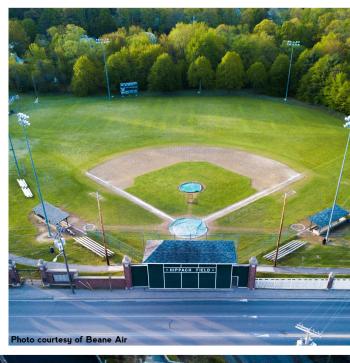

Farmington is a great place to spend some time. If you are new to the area, or a local, there is plenty to do all the time to keep you busy and entertained. If you could spend just one day, here is how to do it. Start the morning off with a nice breakfast, at any of our local eateries. If you have some time, enjoy traditional breakfast menus, where you can find fresh fruit on top of delicious golden crepes or classic atmospheres which play host to hearty omelets and home-fries. Come downtown to our local coffee shops, where you can have a great bagel and a great conversation over a cup of the area's finest coffee.

After you eat, you could stick around the downtown area. Broadway and Main Street both feature an assortment of locally owned shops and businesses. If you're a more adventurous type, and depending on the season, you could play some disc golf or enjoy other challenging outdoor activities. Titcomb Mountain is an awesome local ski hill used for hiking and mountain biking in the warmer months and for Nordic and downhill skiing in the winter season. The mountain features some intermediate level trails, and an incredibly friendly and inviting atmosphere. It is known as "the friendliest mountain in Maine". If you want to be outside but want to take it easy, Farmington has plenty of parks and walking trails, including Abbott Park and the Clifford and Bonney woods. The UMF Campus has two art galleries, and there is also the Nordica Homestead Museum in town if you're looking for some cultural exploration.

Finish off your day at any of the restaurants in town for dinner. From All-American classics to Mexican, Thai and Chinese, Farmington has plenty of choices for eating out and dining local. There is a movie theater in town with indoor cinemas and an outdoor drive-in so come catch a showing. You can even enjoy comedy shows and concerts there during the summer months. For the night owls, Farmington has sports bars, pubs and a microbrewery to visit. Have a good time and grab a drink with friends!

Farmington is an inviting and friendly place. It is truly a culture and community charm has been developed for many generations. We in the community are excited for you to come and visit, live, work, or play - we look forward to getting to know you!

WILTON

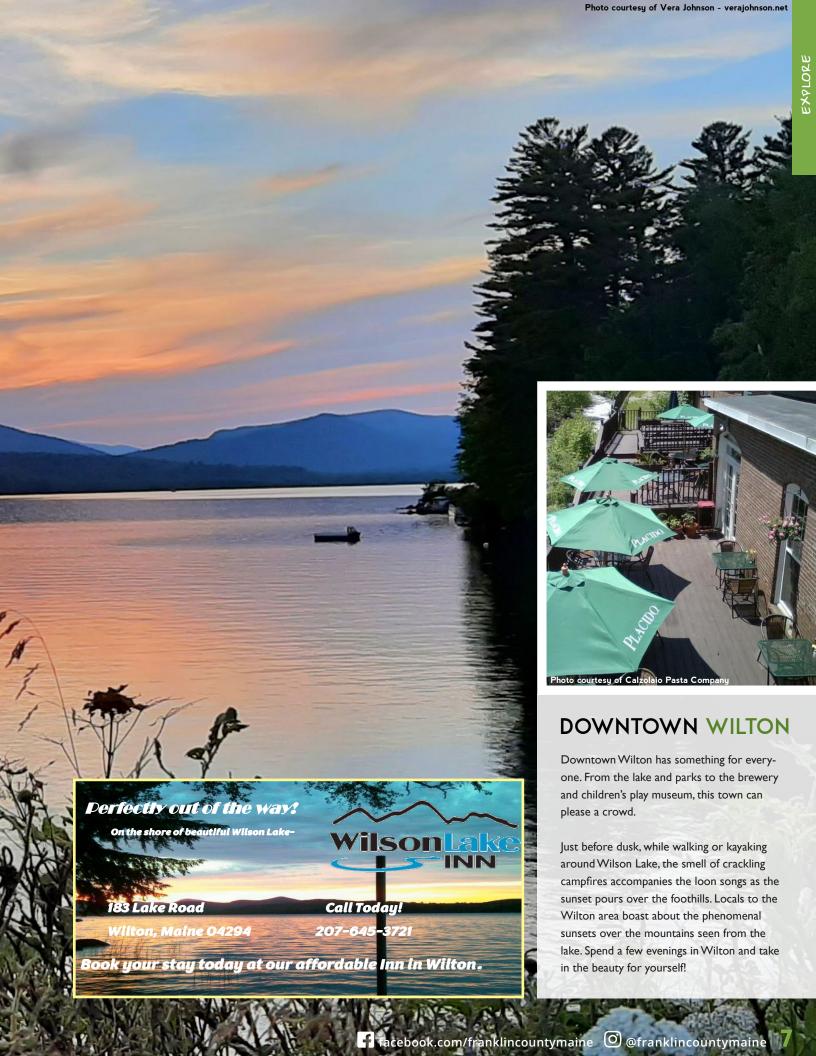

WILSON LAKE • SWIMMING • FISHING CANOEING • GOLFING • BLUEBERRY FEST

Wilton is the best of what Maine's Lake and Mountain region has to offer. At the junction of Routes 2 & 4, in the quiet foothills of western Maine, Wilton is the home of the prestigious Wilson Lake and a friendly downtown— just big enough without losing an intimate, small-town feel. While visiting Wilton, you'll be met with a warm sense of community and strong town pride. Wilton's downtown features locally-owned shops, restaurants, a brewery, and a charming public library. The town has a comfortable atmosphere with friendly people to meet, and plenty of space to get out and enjoy the natural beauty of the area. Neighboring town Farmington is right up the road, so you never feel too far away from any amenity.

One of Wilton's major attractions is Wilson Lake, which has something to give in every season. Fall offers up its magnificent foliage, where shades of red and orange surround the water everywhere you look. Wilton's Fish and Game Association hosts an ice fishing tournament on the lake every winter: Wilton also has an outdoor ice rink for more wintertime fun. Enjoy a picnic at Bass Park in the spring, with swings and a playground. In the summer, Kineowatha Park offers kayak and paddleboard rentals on Wilson Lake and a disc golf course! Wilton will host its 40th annual Blueberry Festival on the first weekend of August. It features unique events and an opportunity to come together and celebrate the region's heritage and culture with many options for good food and fun activities.

ART WALKS • MUSEUMS
HIKING • KINGFIELD POPS

ingfield is a charming historic town nestled in the foothills of the Bigelow and Longfellow mountain ranges. It sits along the Carrabassett River and Route 27 in northern Franklin County. The town has a selection of retail and specialty shops, galleries, restaurants, cafes, lodging, schools, and churches.

Kingfield hosts art walks on the first Friday of each month, where local artists and crafters get together with the community to celebrate art. In the summer month of July, Kingfield Festival Days is a three-day event celebrating the community through art and music. Kingfield POPS is another exciting event to celebrate the summer. Explore pieces of Kingfield's history by visiting the Stanley Museum or the Ski Museum of Maine. You can learn more about these cultural hubs in our museums section starting on page 35.

Outdoor recreational activities are a large part of living in Kingfield and serve as a major attraction to the area. If hiking, hunting or skiing interest you, you'll find Kingfield a welcoming community. Kingfield's proximity to the Carrabas-sett Valley gives you easy access to Sugarloaf—the largest ski area east of the Rocky Mountains.

Carrabassett Valley is an entry point for the Maine Huts and Trails system. Whether you are on foot, bike, snowshoes, or skis, this year-round trail system gives outdoor enthusiasts a chance to explore the outdoors and offers four locations to stay if you decide to extend your day trip. If you enjoy maneuvering the lakes and streams, the Kingfield area offers many opportunities for boating and fishing. Guided fishing trips are available through Western Mountain Fly Fishing and Kingfisher River Guides.

While enjoying the seasonal activities, you are sure to see some of the wildlife in the area. It is not unusual to see moose, deer, wild turkeys, fox, and other wildlife along the roadsides or hawks and eagles soaring through the sky.

CARRABASSETT VALLEY

ALPINE AND NORDIC SKIING . HIKING . BIKING RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES • GOLF

arrabassett Valley is a staple of the Franklin County region. Attractions like Sugarloaf Mountain, the Carrabassett Coffee to come back. The food in this area is exceptional and ranges from fancy five-star dining to unique and delicious home-style eateries.

The Carrabassett Valley has many exceptional trails for hiking and biking through the woods around the scenic mountains and alongside the Carrabassett river. Just to the north of the Carrabassett Valley is Flagstaff Lake. The lake and most of the surrounding bodies of water are great places to fish for salmon and trout. Though the population is small, the woods are full of adventure, and there is plenty of space to explore. If you're looking to hike and camp, the Maine Huts and Trails system in this area is an opportunity that is too interesting to pass up. No tent? No Problem! Stay at any of the beautiful huts along the trail system.

The Sugarloaf Golf course has been voted as one of the top golf courses in the State of Maine, so if you're looking to get out on the greens, Carrabassett Valley is a great place in Franklin County to do that. Sugarloaf and the Maine Huts and Trails system are developing their mountain bike trails so make sure to go and check out the changes. No matter what you're looking to do, whether it be getting out and getting active in any season, or just relaxing in the scenic beauty of the Maine Lakes and Mountains region, you won't have to go further than Carrabassett Valley.

PHILLIPS

SANDY RIVER & RANGELEY
LAKES RAILROAD • OLD HOME
DAYS • FLYROD CROSBY TRAIL

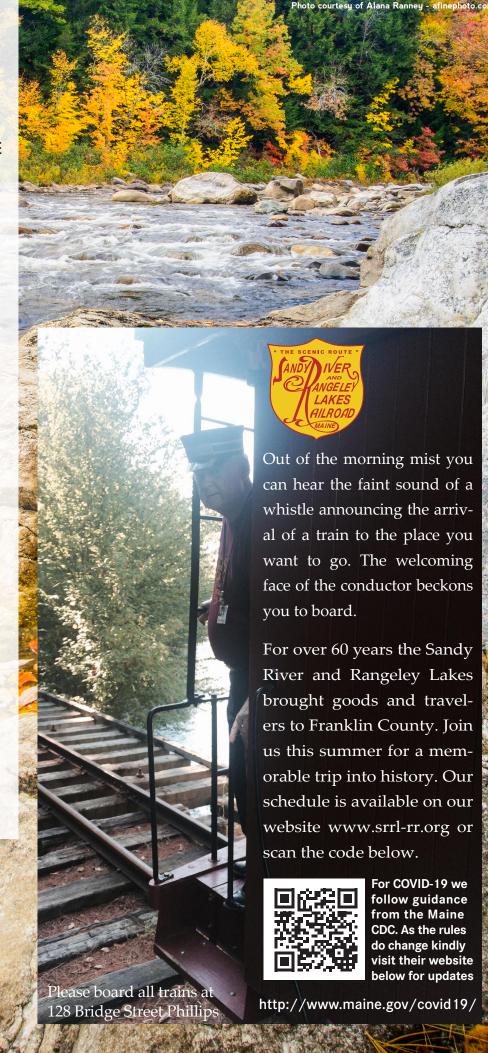

Phillips is a small town known for its railways and exceptional sense of community. Visitors to the town are drawn to the Sandy River and Rangeley Lakes Railroad and the Heritage railroad, which are two of northern Maine's signature narrow gauge railways. The area has museums and historical spots to explore and of course the scenic beauty that Maine is known for.

The Fly Rod Crosby Trail, a 45-mile heritage path, runs from the town's old car barn to Rangeley's Saddleback Mountain. The Trail is named after Maine's first officially licensed guide, who was born in Phillips. Within minutes of the town center is the famous glacial erratic, Daggett Rock. Also just outside of town are the Smalls Falls' tumbling series of cascades.

Phillips hosts the town's signature event the third week in August, "Old Home Days" with a week long celebration, parade, street dance and lots of food and fun. Fox-Carlton Pond Sporting Camps celebrates Fly Rod Crosby Day in May. The Fall season features a Scarecrow Reunion with prizes for the best creation.

The Phillips area has a library, a community center, an active arts society, several civic organizations, a farmers' market, antique shops, cafe, and a large supermarket. The town supports dozens of small home-based businesses, skilled artisans and a variety of service providers. A small town and an out-of-the way place, perhaps, but Phillips shows daily proof that the spirit of community and love of home is alive and well in the mountains of Western Maine.

RANGELEY

SNOWMOBILING • SKIING • BIKING • HIKING BOATING/FISHING • CAMPING

Rangeley is a four-season jewel, ideal to enjoy fishing, hunting, boating, kayaking, hiking, biking, cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, and ATV riding. There are 6 major lakes in the region, as well as many of the tallest mountains in Maine. The Appalachian Trail runs through the region and can be picked up at the roadside off Rt. 4, approximately 9 miles south of Rangeley. In addition, it runs across the summit of Saddleback Mountain. The area offers a variety of hikes with canyon, rock formation, mountain top, and waterfall views for all experience levels.

Saddleback is BACK! Saddleback Mountain Ski Area is back after a nearly 5 year hiatus, and is now bigger and better than ever! Saddleback Mountain has been named the 2022 Readers' Choice for "Best Ski Mountain" in Maine by Down East magazine. Saddleback has invested millions of dollars in mountain improvements, including new lift and snowmaking infrastructure, a renovated base lodge, a new Mid Mountain Lodge, slope-side employee housing, more on-mountain lodging, mountain bike trails, and a solar farm.

In the winter season, snowmobilers flock to Rangeley for the Rangeley Lakes Snowmobile Club which maintains 150 miles of well-groomed trails that connect to 12,500 miles of international circuits throughout Maine and Canada. The Snodeo is a fun winter event in Rangeley with plenty of activities and certainly plenty of snowmobiles. The Rangeley Lakes Trail Center, located near the base of Saddleback Mountain, is known for some of the best Nordic skiing in New England. In addition to skiing, the trail center also offers snowshoe trails. You can also enjoy ice skating under the lights on Haley Pond and sledding at the Wilhelm Reich Museum in Rangeley. Even If you are not an outdoor enthusiast there is still plenty for you to do in the area. Main Street, Rangeley is home to shops, restaurants, a grocery store, small movie theater, bowling/arcade, and more. Also keep your eyes open for home tours, sporting days, musical performances, arts and crafts festivals, parades, and much more.

If you are just driving through, make sure to visit the Height of the Land off Rt. 17 as part of the Rangeley Lakes National Scenic Byway. This trip is renowned for its fall foliage, spring lupine display, and numerous scenic overlooks.

WELD

hen you think of a picturesque lake, what does it look like? Is it surrounded by beautiful mountain scenery? Is it quiet, with only the sound of gentle waves rolling onto the rocky shore, or a loon call? Is the water fresh and clear? If any of this is resonating with you then the town of Weld is the place for you to visit. Webb Lake in Weld is a premier destination for kayakers, fishermen, and boaters. The small lake is constantly being filled by the surrounding mountains and streams so the water is incredibly fresh and cool for all sorts of fish including trout and land-locked salmon. In the evening, looking out across the lake, enjoy the absolute tranquility of Maine as the breathtaking stars sparkle over the water's glassy surface.

In the morning, the sunrise pours through the valley between Mt. Blue and Bald Mountain. You won't find this sort of rustic beauty anywhere else. Speaking of the mountains, Weld is a great place to be outdoors. With mountains in the area such as Mt. Blue, Bald Mountain, Tumbledown, and the Jackson Mountains, you can always find the perfect hike with rewarding views at the top.

Mt. Blue State Park has 25 miles of multi-use trails so whether you're looking to walk, ride, or cross-county ski, you can do it all in Weld. Mt. Blue State Park is Maine's largest state park, encompassing 8,000 total acres. A campground in the Webb Beach section of the park has 136 wooded sites. Abundant outdoor recreational opportunities abound as visitors can swim, launch and rent boats, and walk on trails near the lake. During summer months, park staff routinely offer canoe trips, walks, and nature programs; along with a Nature Center featuring hands-on exhibits and displays. For more information on the hikes or the Mt. Blue State Park, check out the activities section starting on page 14.

EUSTIS & STRATTON

he Town of Eustis is comprised of two villages, Eustis Village and Stratton. They are located on the High Peaks Scenic Byway (Rt. 27). The population here is roughly 620. This community is made up of small business owners and folks who make the most of living in Northern Franklin County.

There are some major attractions to this area: The Bigelow Preserve and the Flagstaff Lake. The Bigelow Preserve offers hiking trials with fantastic bird watching opportunities, as it climbs above 3,000 feet. If climbing Bigelow Mountain be prepared for a vigorous and at times strenuous hike that will last an entire day.

The Flagstaff Lake is a 20,300 acre impoundment that is quite shallow and was established by the damming of the Dead River. The Long Falls Dam enlarged the lake and turned it into a reservoir used for hydropower electricity in 1950. There is boat public boat access just north of Stratton and private tours of the lake are offered if you are so inclined. Flagstaff Lake is part of the Northern Forest Canoe Trail. The Northern Forest Canoe Trail is an historic 740 mile water-trail through New York, Vermont, Quebec, New Hampshire, and Maine.

The Moose Trail is a 138-mile regional ATV trail that connects the towns of Stratton-Eustis, Rangeley, Kingfield, Avon, Salem, Strong, Phillips and Madrid as well as other interconnected trails throughout Maine.

The Arnold Trail Snowmobile Club has some of the best groomed trails in the state and grooms 170 miles (one way) in and around Eustis and Stratton. The major trails connect with Rangeley, Carrabassett Valley, Grand Falls, The Forks and north to Canada. The area is part of the Black Fly loop, the largest loop trail in Maine.

In June, you can participate in the Family Fun Days in Eustis for fun family oriented Maine festivities. And in February, the Polar Blast Festival is a four day event and is the region's largest gathering for snowmobilers. Stratton and Eustis make small town living an art and a comfortable, welcoming place to visit.

SKIING

Franklin County offers up some of Maine's most sought after mountains and runs, including the famous Sugarloaf Mountain Resort. While visiting for the winter, be sure to check out Titcomb Mountain as well for a more mellow trail. If you're looking for nordic skiing, there are dozens of peaceful wooded trails in the area, including six at Mt. Blue State Park.

HIKING

Franklin County was cultivated underneath 10 of Maine's 14 high peaks. Hikes in the area range from beginner, all the way to advanced. No matter the skill level or duration of the walk in the woods, the views are always spectacular and the climb is just as rewarding. Popular hikes include Tumbledown, Mt. Blue, Bald, and the Maine Huts and Trails system.

CULTURE

Our region is filled with many cultural adventures. Downtown Farmington's community is quaint and ideal for getting out and meeting people. Enjoy shopping at many of the locally owned shops! Take a few hours or a weekend and enjoy the variety of trails Franklin County has to offer.

The unspoiled mountain vistas, placid lake shores and majestic forests of Western Maine offer cyclists plenty of opportunity for sight-seeing, museum visits and hiking. How earmuffs, Stanley Steamers, the Narrow Gauge Railway, lumber, mountains and moose all contribute to the diverse and colorful heritage of Franklin County is explained at the many museums and historical societies along the route. This rich heritage, combined with world-class scenery, make these rides unforgettable.

Golfing in Franklin County includes country clubs and public golf courses that cater to every style of play. Some courses are encircled by lakes and rivers while others are nestled in the mountains with beautiful and unforgettable views. Come and discover the many treasured, pristine glacial lakes, ponds, rivers and streams throughout Franklin County. Freshwater sandy beaches are abundant throughout Franklin County. What is there not to love about an easy refreshing dip in the pristine lakes, ponds and rivers amidst the lush green forest?

In the winter months Franklin County is home to uncrowded lifts and long ski trails with spectacular scenery and excellent snow quality. So whether you are hitting the slopes or the cross-country ski trails you are sure to have a great time. Enjoy another great part of winter in Maine: ice skating! Community outdoor skating presents the perfect opportunity to enjoy the winter season. Ice skaters of all ages and abilities are welcome. Fun on the snow is what it's all about! Each year, many snowmobilers find winter adventures on the Maine snowmobile system. Explore the state and enjoy the many winter festivals and events by using this system. Snowshoers are a special breed of winter hikers. Find yourself a simple pair of snowshoes and come explore our Maine winter wonderland. You will enjoy touring through our pine-scented forests, silent white meadows and trails running parallel to frozen lakes and rivers. You will find yourself immersed in a world of tranquility, beauty and adventure and every season offers you an abundance of new opportunities.

MOOSE LOOP

This ATV loop trail circles the heart of Franklin County, connecting the trail systems of seven clubs. The Moose Loop is 170 plus miles with the widest variety of trails available in the east - this is one loop you do not want to miss! It is suggested you plan 2 days to do this trip and stay overnight. Test your ATV on steep mountain trails, rocks, and mud holes or leisurely tour along trails in the woods and enjoy the scenery. Maine towns and villages can provide services and amenities for all your adventures.

WHISTLE STOP TRAIL

Jay, Wilton, Farmington

14 miles one way, four season, trail connecting Jay, Wilton, and Farmington, this section of the former broad gauge Androscoggin Railroad (later the Maine Central) has been converted into a multi-use, four-season rail trail for everything from walking, biking, snowshoeing, and cross-country skiing to horseback riding, dog sledding, ATVing, and snowmobiling. Following the gentle curves and slopes of the railroad bed, the trail is generally wide and flat making it ideal for easy walks or for travelling long distances.

The trail traverses a variety of landscapes including scenic views of Western Maine's foothills, forested wetlands, and rural farmland. Closely replicating the historic railroad setting, the trail also features several trestles spanning tree-lined streams and rivers. In Jay, old granite walls and culverts remain as testaments to both the railroad's legacy as well as to the nearby quarrying heritage of North Jay. A way-side exhibit details additional information about Maine and New Hampshire Granite Company that operated the quarries until the turn of the century. For more information about the quarries visit the nearby North Jay White Granite Park.

BIKING

FRANKLIN HERITAGE TOUR LOOPS

Road Biking

Distance: 16-107-mile route

Webb Lake Loop

Distance: 16-mile Level: Intermediate

Overview: Leaves from the village of Weld and leads you right to Mt. Blue State Park that has magnificent mountain scenery.

Strong- New Vineyard Loop

Distance: 29-miles

Level: Intermediate

Overview: Moderately hilly with one flat section along the Sandy River Valley.

Strong-Phillips-Weld-Wilton Loop

Distance: 54-miles

Level: Beginner - Intermediate

Overview: Mainly in the Sandy River Valley, has challenging hills with rewarding scenery.

Cautions: Heavy traffic in Farmington; narrow roads with no shoulders; logging trucks on RT 4 and RT 2. Watch for moose and deer. There are long stretches without services, so carry spare parts and plenty of food, water, and warm clothes for changeable weather.

Starting point: Rides originate (except 16-mile option) from Maine Department of Transportation park and ride lot at the intersection of RT 4 and RT 2 in Farmington. Some spaces are designated for overnight parking. The 16-mile ride begins at the junction of RT 142 and RT 156 in Weld village.

CARRABASSETT VALLEY Off-Road Biking

These are some bike loops in Carrabassett Valley suggested by the folks that ride our trails. The ride time is based on the average for a rider of the ride's ability level. Trail numbers are in parentheses. Ask around at the Carrabassett Bike Shop for more details on these rides or for other options.

Round the Pond

Level: Beginner - Start/End: Sugarloaf Outdoor Center Ride Time: 20-30 minutes

Overview:This introductory ride is perfect for the brand new rider who is getting the feel of a mountain bike. It circumnavigates the pond at the Outdoor Center, has very little climbing, offers a smooth trail. Loop: From the Outdoor Center start West (to the right looking at the pond) on Moose Bog Loop (103). Stay on the tread around the pond to the carriage road and head left back to the Outdoor Center.

Grassy Loop Excursion

Level: Beginner - Start/End: Sugarloaf Outdoor Center Ride Time: 60-90 minutes

Overview: This loop will give a dose of twisty, turning trails through the woods, some views of the Carrabassett River and some open single track with great flow. This is a great option once you've mastered the basics.

Loop: Across the parking lot from the Outdoor Center find the Snail Trail Loop (101). Start around in either direction but take the Route 27 Connector (102) across Route 27 (use caution crossing the road). Proceed over the bridge and left on the Narrow Gauge (200). Old Gauge Trail (204) cuts the corner and gets you into the woods. Proceed on the Narrow Gauge and around the Grassy Loops (201). There is an inner and outer loop to explore. Return to the Outdoor Center via the Narrow Gauge, Route 27 Connector and Snail Trail.

Speed Up, Flow Down

Level: Beginner/Intermediate Start/End: Sugarloaf Outdoor Center Ride Time: 45-60 minutes Overview: Steeper climb, some intermediate technical riding on the way down.

Loop: Proceed east on the dirt road portion of the Moose Bog Loop (103). Stay on the dirt road (Moose Bog will veer right off the road) and climb up past the warming hut on your left. Continue this ride past the lower entrance to T.O.A.D. (126) on your left and Fifty (116) to the upper entrance to T.O.A.D. Catch your breath and enjoy the ride down T.O.A.D. back to the dirt road. Scoot down to the warming hut and proceed right onto Jaba the Hut (110). Then take the dirt road back to the Outdoor Center.

Hut-to-Hut Loop

Level: Intermediate/Advanced -Start/End: Huston Brook Trailhead (by the airport) Ride Time: 4-6 hours

Overview: This loop ride will take you to two of the Maine Huts & Trails backcountry huts. These facilities serve snacks and beverages through much of the season and offer a place to rest and refill water containers. Do one or both individual loops in this figure-eight ride.

Loop: Proceed across the bridge from the trailhead and turn left on Houston Brook Road. In a very short distance, head right on the CRNEMBA Trail (302). Cross the Carriage Road to Poplar Stream Trail (304) proceed up, up, and up to the Poplar Stream Falls Hut. Rest up at the hut and then proceed down the hut access road to the Sticky Trail (305). Enjoy the rolling single track and fantastic views to the Carriage Road. Turn left back down into the Valley and right back onto the CRNEMBA Trail (302). You can stop at your car for supplies and then head up the Narrow Gauge (200) or the Caboose (209) to the Bypass Trail (307) to Cromits Overlook (309). After a long steady climb, turn right on Newton's Revenge for a short climb to Stratton Brook Hut. ride down Oak Knoll (310) will be a treat you'll not soon forget. [Exit Oak Knoll to the right on the bottom section of Newton's and reconnects with the Narrow Gauge] Enjoy the bliss with an easy ride down the Narrow Gauge or sample the many short single track trails that loop off the Narrow Gauge. Turn right at the bridge and back to your car.

TROLL VALLEY BIKING TRAIL

Red Schoolhouse Rd, Farmington

The Troll Valley Campground offers two loop trails especially designed for mountain biking but are also suitable for walking and hiking. The two trail loops are Tom's Challenge and the Maze, both of which leave from the back of the campsite lodge. Both trails are also are marked with white blazes (or posts along the edges of fields) and are one way trails. They wind along a single track over an old cross-country ski trail system, through the woods, and around the campground.

The Maze is the easier of the two loops and it weaves primarily around the camp buildings and tent sites. The upper loop, Tom's Challenge, ascends a more challenging hill which provides spectacular vistas in the spring and in the fall when the leaves change color. Because the trails utilize the old cross-country ski trails as well as single track through forested areas, they can vary in width ranging from a wide cross-country trail immediately to a narrow path. The trailheads and ends for the loops are located close together, making it easy to create a longer three-mile loop.

The owners of the Troll Valley Campground maintain these trails free of charge to the public, but ask that visitors check in at the main lodge before and after using the trails for safety reasons.

GOLFING

EVERGREEN GOLF COURSE

522 Dallas Hill Road, Rangeley

The Evergreen Golf Club in Rangeley, Maine is a championship quality 9 hole course designed and owned by George Buck. Evergreen features 5 sets of tees on each hole to match any golfer's ability, practice greens, a driving range, full pro shop and affordable rates. Offering group and private lessons from a PGA member with over 25 years' experience, the course offers golf cart rentals, a driving range, practice area, putting green, and custom fitted golf club sales and is open during the summer.

MINGO SPRINGS

43 Country Club Road, Rangeley

Situated in the beautiful Rangeley Lakes Region of Western Maine, Mingo Springs offers 18 holes of scenic golf, challenging and enjoyable for beginner and scratch player alike. Mingo is best played by angles, not by length. The course, while relatively short compared to many newer courses, is challenging for even the longest hitters because it rewards accuracy over power, at least most of the time. The front nine is more open than the back, but it also has many more hills.

SUGARLOAF

Route 27; Sugarloaf Access Rd. Carrabassett Valley

Sugarloaf/USA Golf Club is a spectacular championship golf course. The awe-inspiring 18-holes that make up the Sugarloaf Golf Club & Golf School have proven, for so many golfers, an unforgettable experience, punctuated by the rugged, demanding terrain that is the hallmark of mountain golf. Sugarloaf Golf Course has been voted Maine's #1 golf course.

WILSON LAKE COUNTRY CLUB

320 Weld Road, Wilton

Wilson Lake Country Club, often called "the Best Nine in Maine", was created in the early 1930's in a classic ninehole layout that still sits today by the shores of Wilson Lake. More than a few who have experienced Wilson Lake Country Club comment on how it has retained much of its original character across over eight decades of play.

APPALACHIAN TRAIL TO PIAZZA ROCK & SADDLEBACK MOUNTAIN

Rte. 4 Sandy River Plantation

ME Route 4 crosses the Appalachian Trail in Sandy River Plantation, 30 miles north of Farmington or 9 miles south of Rangeley. Park in the lot situated west of the highway. This is a popular moderate hike with interesting rock formations to explore at the end of the journey. This is a nice introduction to the outdoors and the Appalachian Trail for families and children to experience as an all-day outing. The overall elevation gain is about 450' with most of the work done in the beginning third of the hike. Piazza Rock sits at the base of the majestic Saddleback Mountain Range. More experienced hikers will pass through the Piazza Rock site focused on the summit of Saddleback Mountain, a 4,130 feet summit, or the Horn, a 4,041 feet summit beyond.

Beginning from the parking lot on ME Route 4, the trail crosses the road and enters the forest opposite the parking lot. On your left, just prior to reaching the Piazza Rock Lean-To, is a 200 yard side trail which leads to the actual Piazza Rock. According to the geological notes about this area "The granite of Saddleback is jointed into huge building blocks. An unusually large one has slid out of its place in the mountain side and, instead of breaking and skating down the slope like the others, has balanced across another block to create one-half of a cantilever bridge, forming Piazza Rock."

BALD MOUNTAIN

Rangeley/Oquossoc

A great hike for families! Picnic tables are located at both the top and bottom of the trail. The Bald Mountain Trail is within the Bald Mountain Public Reserved Land located between the historic Rangeley and Mooselookmeguntic Lakes. It is only a mile from the trailhead to the summit. Hikers can enjoy panoramic views of the surrounding Rangeley, Cupsuptic and Mooselookmeguntic Lakes as well as Maine's Saddleback Mountain, Elephant Mountain, the Height of Land, and New Hampshire's Mount Washington in the White Mountains. This trail is especially popular in the fall when the autumn colors are in full swing and moose and deer are commonly seen crossing the forested slopes.

Follow ME Route 4 about a mile west of its intersection with ME Route 17 in Oquossoc Village, Rangeley. Near the end of ME Route 4, turn left onto Bald Mountain Road. Continue on Bald Mountain Road for about 0.5 miles. Signs and parking for the trailhead will be on the left. The trail leaves from the parking lot. Summit height: 2,443 feet

BLUEBERRY MOUNTAIN TRAIL

Township 6 North of Weld

This hike is an uphill, often steep, climb to the top of Blueberry Mountain where hikers are rewarded with 360 degree views of the Maine High Peaks Region from Blueberry Mountain's summit. At 2890 feet in elevation, Blueberry Mountain is one of the lesser known and hiked trails in the Weld region. However, the summit offers some of the best views of the Maine High Peaks Region. On a clear day hikers can see the nearby peaks of Jackson, Tumbledown, Bald, and Mt. Blue, as well as more distant peaks including, Saddleback, Spaulding, Mt. Abram, North and South Crocker, Sugarloaf, and on very clear days the Bigelow Mountains Range and Mt. Washington in New Hampshire.

From South: At the intersection of ME Route 142 and 156 in Weld, head north on ME Route 142 toward Philips about 3.8 miles until you see a sign on the left indicating the entrance to the Blueberry Mountain Bible Camp (a dirt road). Turn on to this road and drive uphill for almost 1.5 miles. The road ends at the Bible camp buildings (look for Diradoudian Lodge) where there is plenty of room to park your car.

BONNEY POINT TRAIL

Rangeley

Bonney Point Road off Rte. 16

The Bonney Point Trail is an easy one-mile loop; a short side trail leads to Smith Cove on Rangeley Lake. There are several picnic spots and it hosts diverse habitats for song birds, wading birds, amphibians, beaver, bear, and deer In late summer, the fields produce wildflowers and berries.

BONNEY WOODS WALKING TRAILS

Farmington

From ME Route 4/ME Route 27 (Main Street) in downtown Farmington, turn onto Anson Street on the north side of the Franklin County Courthouse. Continue on Anson Street 0.3 miles up Anson Street Hill to the parking turnout on the right marked with a green sign.

Easy walking trails weave through giant trees, around a vernal spring at the center of the stand, and over fern covered undergrowth in the spring and summer. These trails are used frequently by community members, and it is not uncommon to see "fairy" homes built by locals or nature classes from the nearby elementary school and university using the woods. These trails are particularly attractive in the morning and evenings when sunlight slants through the trees highlighting much as columns in a cathedral. In the winter, snowshoers and cross country skiers often will break out paths for walkers

CENTER HILL NATURE TRAIL

Weld - Center Hill Road

The Center Hill Nature Trail is an easy half mile loop and self-guided nature trail in the heart of Mount Blue State Park. Leaving directly from the picnic area, this trail loops through mature soft-wood, oak, and mixed forest stands before returning back to the parking area. Breathtaking views of the Weld region, including Tumbledown, Blueberry, and Jackson Mountains, Mount Blue, and Weld Lake can be seen from several places along the trail including the picnic area and Center Hill Ledges. A self-guided nature trail and fantastic views make this a unique, worthwhile, and family-friendly experience. Picnic area and parking open hours are 9:00 am to sunset.

Dogs must be leashed, and owners must clean up after their pets. Pets may not be left unattended. Mount Blue State Park Manager: 299 Center Hill Road Weld, ME 04285. Phone: (207) 585-2261

CASCADE STREAM GORGETRAIL

Rangeley

This short trail leads into the 90-foot deep gorge of Cascade Stream providing access to a series of waterfalls and chutes. The trail leaves from the south side of the parking area and is marked by white blazes. There are several good viewpoints of the stream and falls along the trail which at several points follows the bedrock on the side of the gorge. A higher trail away from the stream offers a loop opportunity. Picnic tables can be found at the parking lot and at the power line. The stream great in the summer months to cool off and escape the summer heat. One mile loop trail offers excellent scenery, wildlife viewing, and picnicking opportunities as it follows the gorge of Cascade Stream to a series of beautiful waterfalls.

Route 4 North. At the intersection of South Shore Drive and Cascade Road with ME Route 4 in Sandy River Plantation. Take a right onto Cascade Road.

CATHEDRAL PINES

Eustis/Stratton

Cathedral Pines Pathways offers easy all purpose trails through magnificent towering pines and a boardwalk which traverses a bog with spectacular views of the Bigelow Range. The trails pass through a grove of mature red pines that—in contrast to the low and sparse undergrowth—lend a cathedral-like quality to the forest. The trails are marked only at intersections by colored boards but are easy to follow; most are well-worn or follow unused logging roads or, in a few cases, ATV trails.

From the Intersection of ME Routes 27 and 16 in Stratton Village (Town of Eustis), drive about 3.5 miles north on ME Route 27. The parking and trailhead for Cathedral Pines Pathways is on the left at the intersection of ME Route 27 and Eustis Ridge Road.

FLINT WOODS WALKING TRAILS

Farmington

This network of forest trails offers easy to moderate terrain for year-round, non-motorized use. Explore the many trails to find old wells, vernal pools, scenic overlooks and more, only a few blocks from downtown Farmington. Scenic overlooks are impressive and multiply as fall foliage drops to reveal views of Mt. Blue, its surrounding northwest foothills and the Sandy River valley. Sunsets from the Box Shop Hill summit area can be spectacular.

From Route 4/27 (Main Street) in downtown
Farmington, turn right onto Anson Street on the north side of the Franklin County Courthouse. Continue on Anson Street 0.5 miles up Anson Street hill to the parking area turnout on the left, which is marked with a green sign. You will also spot a larger, yellow Powder House Hill Trails kiosk including a map and information. Flint Woods and Village Woods are about an eighth of a mile beyond the Bonney Woods parking area which is on the right.

FLY ROD CROSBY TRAIL

Phillips 1 3 2

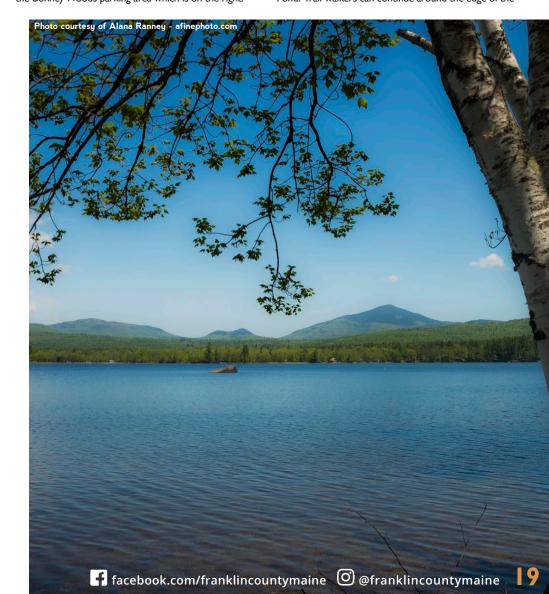

The Fly Rod Crosby Trail is a 45-mile heritage hiking trail that when completed will wind its way from Strong to Oquossoc along the Sandy River, Orbeton and Hardy Streams across the Appalachian Trail and Rangeley Lake to the Sporting Heritage Museum. Currently there are two sections open, comprising over 20 miles of continuous trail. Phillips to Madrid Section: This 7-mile section of the trail with its flat to rolling to briefly strenuous terrain begins in historic downtown Phillips, crosses the Sandy River and follows abandoned railroad beds along the river to the Orbeton Stream in Madrid.

Madrid to Saddleback Section: This 13-mile section of the trail with its moderate to strenuous terrain follows the Orbeton and Hardy streams and crosses the Appalachian Trail on the western shoulder of Saddleback Mountain terminating near the base lodge of the ski resort.

FOOTHILLS LAND CONSERVANCY

Wilton

The Foothills Land Conservancy offers an easy walking trail one mile loop with great wildlife viewing along fields leading to the northern inlets and wetlands of Wilson Pond. Trail walkers can continue around the edge of the southern field to make a walking loop with a total distance from the kiosk and back of about a mile. Visitors are welcome year round. The parking area is plowed during the winter. Skiing is also possible on the ITS snowmobile trail which intersects the foot trail at the trailhead. Route 156 in Wilton, follow ME Route 156 north 3.5 miles to Pond Road on the left (2.4 miles from ME Route 156 and Main St intersection in downtown Wilton). Follow Pond Road approximately 300 yards. Parking for the Foothills Land Conservancy will be on the right and the trailhead will be on the left.

KINEOWATHA PARK

Wilton

Kineowatha Park's trails wander through old pine forests, along the shores of Wilson Lake, and connect the various recreation areas in the park. This short network of trails provides easy and relaxed walking as well as picnicking and swimming. The trails are not marked, but are well-worn and are easy to follow. The southern loops leave from the parking area near the picnic tables and empty onto the beach. The northerly loop exits the beach beyond the docks and curls behind the athletic fields.

From the intersection of Route 2 and Route 4 in Wilton, drive about 0.5 miles west on Route 2 to Main Street. Turn right onto Main and drive about 0.3 miles into downtown Wilton. Just after the Civil War monument in the main square, turn left onto High Street. Kineowatha Park is approximately one-half mile on High Street on the left.

MT. BLUE STATE PARK- MT. BLUETRAIL Weld

The Mt. Blue Trail offers a challenging 2.8 mile hike with rewarding scenic views of the mountains surrounding Weld and Webb Pond. This is a popular hike in any season including winter. About a mile from the trailhead a former fire warden's cabin provides a place for rest and shelter. The remains of an old fire tower are also at the summit. At the top of Mt. Blue, the summit provides many great views of the picturesque Weld area. At 3,187 feet, Mt. Blue is not the tallest mountain in the Weld area, but it is probably the best known peak in the region. Visible for many miles to the south, it is surrounded and protected by Mt. Blue State Park

From South: At the intersection of Route 156 with Route 142 in Weld, proceed easterly onto Center Hill Road. Center Hill Road takes a slight left about 0.5 miles from the main roads; follow the signs for the Center Hill Trails and for parking. Continue past the park headquarters and Center Hill Picnic Area for another 3.0 miles on Center Hill Road until you reach another fork in the road. A sign indicates Mt. Blue Trail and parking by bearing right onto Mt. Blue Road. Follow this road for about 2.5 milesbearing right at the logging road roughly 1.8 miles from the main fork—to the end where the trailhead and parking are located.

TUMBLEDOWN & LITTLE JACKSON Weld

Moderate/Advanced, 10.6 mile trail network in the Weld region of Maine accesses some of the most interesting features and most spectacular views of the Western Mountains Region of Maine. The Tumbledown Mountain and Little Jackson Mountain trail network is composed of six trails and two official trailheads and provides advanced hiking to some of the most unique features in Western Maine. Tumbledown Mountain is not the highest mountain in this area, but with three peaks, 700-foot cliffs and a pond (or mountain tarn) near the summit, Tumbledown stands out amongst its taller rivals.

Several trailheads begin on Byron Road near Weld and views include Crater Lake just below the summit. Outdoors writer Josh Christie talked about Tumbledown in a story for the Portland Press Herald: "Many of Maine's hikes allow access to dramatic cliff faces, Alpine ponds, bald ridges and closely-clustered peaks. One reason that Weld's Tumbledown Mountain is my favorite hike in the state is because it offers all these features in one place." Little Jackson Mountain is part of the same range as Tumbledown Mountain, but its higher elevation and ledges offer a different perspective. From the 360-degree view on the summit one can see Saddleback and Sugarloaf to the north, Mount Blue and Webb Lake to the East and to the south, some 600 feet directly below the peak, Tumbledown Pond. Each trail may be explored separately as a day hike, although many experienced hikers prefer to string several trails together into a larger loop.

From East: From the intersection of ME Routes 156 and 142 in Weld, follow ME Route 142 north 2.3 miles and turn left onto Byron Road. Shortly after the turn, Byron Road is unpaved; continue to follow Byron Road approximately 5.6 miles (past the Brook Trailhead) to the Loop Trailhead pullout which will be on the right. (Byron Road changes its name to Weld to Byron Road.)

SKIING (ALPINE & NORDIC)

MT. BLUE STATE PARK

Center Hill Road, Weld

Mount Blue State Park's cross-country ski trails give you an opportunity to see some of the more remote areas of the park in winter's splendor. Six trails ranging in length will take you through forests, fields, and old farmlands. Ranging from a half mile to 10 miles in length, the Mount Blue State Park Ski Trails offer a wide variety of groomed classic track for cross-county skiers of all abilities. Trail descriptions are as follows: colors correspond to on the ground markers and to colors on the brochure available at the Center Hill parking area trailhead.

Central Trail (0.5 miles, marked in yellow):

Starting at park headquarters, this trail connects to all others, except the pine trail. It leaves the parking area through an apple orchard and follows an old power line for a short distance.

Birch Trail (2 miles, marked in blue):

Leaving the Central Trail, the Birch Trail crosses the road into a wood yard, and then loops around a ridge through hardwood and evergreen forests.

Maple Trail (10 miles, marked in red):

This extensive trail traverses a wide variety of terrain and passes through fields, old farmlands, and several types of forest. Plan ahead and allow plenty of time to complete this long loop, or use the suggested turnaround points for shorter trips.

Fox Trail (0.5 miles, marked in orange):

This short loop off the Central Trail also connects with the Moose Trail. It traverses a section of old farmland now grown up into trees.

Moose Trail (I mile, marked in green):

Leaves and returns to the Central Trail. The Moose Trail tours a harvested hardwood forest and a red pine plantation.

Pine Trail (1 mile, marked in brown):
Two short loops that leave from the Moose Trail.
Travel in a clockwise direction to avoid steep grades.

MAINE HUTS & TRAILS

Carrabassett Valley (Kingfield Office at 496 Main Street, Kingfield)

The Titcomb Mountain Lodge offers a large stone fire-place and a cafeteria offering home-cooked items, as well as an outdoor patio and fire pit.

Titcomb Mountain is known for a handful of unique and traditional events. As the ski season winds down into spring skiing in the month of March, Titcomb keeps things interesting with their Dummy Downhill, Retro Day and Pond Skimming contests.

Dummy Downhill is an event for all ages and attracts people from all over. Several "dummies" are created each year to test their strength, speed, and best crash on the slopes. Retro Day welcomes all 80's attire one piece suits, straight skis, and head bands. The vibrant colors and patterns will bring you back to an era where fashion was more important than skiing! The pond skimming contest is a sight for sore eyes as skiers and snowboarders of all ages test their luck and skills while hydroplaning over a 40 ft. pool of water dug right on the hill.

Even after the snow disappears during the summer months, Titcomb Mountain holds its beauty. With an outdoor stone patio, scenic pond, and breathtaking head wall, Titcomb is an exceptional facility and location for weddings, family gatherings, party rentals or any function. Aside from off season rentals, Titcomb is known for its up and rising mountain bike trails that offer terrain for all ages and abilities. Each year they host a Titcomb Mountain Challenge that brings hundreds of riders from all over to overcome the mountains varied terrain.

New to the area, Titcomb Mountain has created an Adventure Camp. Titcomb Mountain Adventure Camp (TMAC) is a new opportunity for children to discover and explore the mountain during the summer season. The focus is connecting campers to outdoor recreation that will develop into lifelong skills. Hiking, mountain biking, archery, shelter building, wilderness survival, canoeing, fishing and several other activities take place each week! A day pass or a seasonal membership is required to use the trails. Equipment rentals are available on site. For information on ski rates, hours and current conditions, call (207) 778-9031.

Directions: From the intersection of US Route 2 and Route 43 in West Farmington, follow Route 43 West. Continue straight at the four-way intersection; another 0.3 miles after the intersection, turn left onto Morrison Hill Road; follow it for 0.6 miles. Turn left at the Titcomb Ski Area sign and access road. Continue on to the parking area at the end of the road.

SNOWMOBILING

You'll find over 300 miles on the Black Fly Loop, which circles all of Franklin County. Those trails reach North through Eustis, Jackman and the Forks, west to Rangeley, Oquossoc and New Hampshire, east to Carrabassett Valley, Kingfield and New Portland and south to Farmington, Wilton and Weld. The Black Fly Loop has the widest variety of trails available in the east. These uncrowded trails wander through stands of pine and climb majestic mountains.

Maine's snowmobile trail system now includes over 14,000 miles of trail, including 3,500 miles of primary trail known as the Interconnected Trail System (ITS). The ITS trails connect across the state and with decent snow a rider may head out from anywhere on the ITS and ride to any other location that is reached by the system. We welcome all safe, responsible snowmobilers to the trails. Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont have entered into an agreement allowing for a reciprocal snowmobile riding weekend in all three states which includes the preceding Friday. This allows for all legally registered New Hampshire, and Vermont snowmobiles to be operated in Maine without a current Maine registration. This also allows for all legally registered Maine snowmobiles to be operated in New Hampshire and Vermont without being registered in either of those states as well. Non-residents may register snowmobiles online: www10.informe.org/ifw/atv-snow or call 207-287-8000

SNOWSHOEING

Trail Etiquette:

- Share the Trail with Cross-Country Skiers
- Snowshoers and cross-country skiers often travel the same trails. If possible, snowshoers should take note not to tread on the skiers' smooth, parallel tracks. Leave No Trace
- Pack out whatever you pack in, and leave only footprints behind.

A better us. For the best you.

CATHEDRAL PINES PATHWAYS

Stratton Village (Town of Eustis) (2 miles network)

The trails at Cathedral Pines provide easy family-friendly hiking and cross-country skiing and snowshoeing along groomed paths during the winter. The trails pass through a grove of mature red pines that—in contrast to the low and sparse undergrowth—lend a cathedrallike quality to the forest. The trails are marked only at intersections by colored boards but are easy to follow; most are well-worn or follow unused logging roads or, in a few cases, ATV trails.

FLINTWOODS & VILLAGE WOODS

Farmington (4.5 miles of network) Main trailhead on Anson Street/Titcomb Hill Rd.

Trails range from the many easy, well-worn improved trails on relatively level terrain (like most of the Flint Woods trails) to some newly developed single track paths in Village Woods (near Box Shop Hill) on moderately steep slopes. These moderately difficult trails include the western end of Ridge Road, Switchback, Sideshot and parts of Low Traverse.

MAINE HUTS AND TRAILS

Kingfield/Carrabassett

For a truly unique experience, visit the Maine Huts and Trails system, an off-the-grid adventure of trails connected by four backcountry eco-lodges. This section of the Maine Huts trail network includes over three miles of groomed ski trail in the winter (usable for mountain biking in summer) and over three miles of excellent hiking or snowshoeing trail.

MINGO SPRINGSTRAIL & BIRD WALK Rangeley (2 mile loop)

The trail at Mingo Springs winds around the "back 9" of a golf course offering a relatively easy walk through various forest types with excellent wildlife viewing.

MOUNT BLUE STATE PARK

Center Hill Road Weld (2.6 miles network)

There are two snowshoe trails in Mount Blue State Park: Rock Lookout Trail and Center Hill Trail. Both trails lead to scenic overlooks that even the most advanced snowshoe enthusiast will enjoy. Both trails start at the Center Hill Parking area next to the park headquarters. At the trailhead, there is an outhouse, information board with maps and descriptions of the winter trails, and an 'iron ranger' for depositing the entrance fee. Both trails start at this point and follow the same route for about the first 1,000 feet passing near a deer wintering area in the park.

NARROW GAUGE PATHWAY

Carrabassett Valley (6.6 miles one way)

The Narrow Gauge Pathway is a rail trail which hugs the east bank of the scenic Carrabassett River. Visitors may access the trail at three different trailheads and enjoy this non-motorized trail in all seasons. The trail has a gentle grade that increases upstream from the Carrabassett Valley Town Office. In the winter the trails are groomed for both classic and skate style cross-country skiing and snowshoeing.

ROCK PONDTRAIL

Sandy River Plantation (1.6 miles – network)

This small network of trails provides access to Rock Pond, Midway Pond, and several scenic overlooks while gaining little elevation along the walk.

SUGARLOAF OUTDOOR CENTER

3001 Touring Center Road, Carrabassett Valley

The Outdoor Center offers miles of maintained snowshoe trails, providing endless hours of snowshoeing fun. Rental snowshoes are available, and snowshoe trails are blazed with trail markers to keep you on your journey. For more information call 207-237-6830

WHISTLE STOPTRAIL

14 miles through Jay, Wilton and Farmington

The trail traverses a variety of landscapes including scenic views Western Maine's foothills, forested wetlands, and rural farmland. Closely replicating the historic railroad setting, the trail also features several trestles spanning tree-lined streams and rivers. In Jay, old granite walls and culverts remain as testaments to both the railroad's legacy as well as to the nearby quarrying heritage of North Jay.

PADDLING - CANOE OR KAYAK

From novice to expert, there is no better way to explore the region than paddling the many shorelines by kayak or canoe and leave the hustle and bustle behind. The forests, mountains, and lowlands are laced with a vast network of watersheds. Bring your camera so you can capture the beauty and wildlife!

Tour the many ponds and lakes throughout Franklin County. In Wilton, spend the day on Wilson Pond often called Wilson Lake or head over to Industry and explore Clearwater Lake, or head out Rte. 156 to Weld and enjoy Webb Lake at Mt. Blue State Park. In Rangeley you can explore the coves and islands of any of their many lakes. There are seven lakes in the Rangeley chain: Rangeley Lake, Mooselookmeguntic Lake, Cupsuptic Lake, Upper & Lower Richardson Lakes, Kennebago Lake, and Umbagog Lake. Don't forget Flagstaff Lake, Maine's fourth largest lake, located nearby in the Stratton - Eustis area.

FISHING

Summer or winter, in the lakes or streams, from the shore, in waders, on a boat or through a hole in the ice, Franklin County's lakes afford limitless opportunities to catch plenty of great fish. Franklin County has a rich fishing history. The lakes, streams, and ponds here used to be the playground of wellknown local guides like Cornelia "Fly Rod" Crosby, Herb Welch, and Carrie Stevens. This county's many streams and waterways offer, perhaps, the finest wild brook trout population in America. Smallmouth and largemouth bass, as well as perch and sunfish, are also fun to catch in this region.

Fishing around here certainly isn't just reserved for the summertime! Our lakes become frozen gathering places to catch pickerel, salmon and trout. Bring your warm clothes and good friends. Ice fishing can be enjoyed on virtually any Maine lake or pond as long as the ice is thick enough. Landlocked salmon and trout are some of the best available fish to catch in Maine. Throughout the year, many lakes host fishing derbies, for ice and open water.

If you're new to the area, it might be beneficial to find a guide service to take you out. However, if you're the adventurous type, you'll find some information here about fishing spots in the area. Some of the locations listed have specific regulations, so be sure to check out the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife website at maine.gov/ifw/fishing/index before heading out.

STATE PARKS

With Breathtaking views and spectacular trails. Franklin County offers a wide variety of scenic walks for any nature lover

MT. BLUE STATE PARK

297 Center Hill Road, Weld

Mt. Blue State Park is Maine's largest state park

Here you will find hiking, trail riding, biking, swimming and picnicking in the Western Maine Mountains. Trail enthusiasts, anglers, and campers enjoy this region through warm summer months, followed by snowmobilers, cross-country skiers, snowshoers, and ice-skaters in winter.

All 8,000 acres can be enjoyed year round by hikers, bikers, skiers, and campers. With a 25 mile trail system, the park has everything you need to enjoy the Maine wilderness. The park surrounds Webb lake in Weld, and includes a campground, and several of Maine's most popular mountains.

The campground at Mt. Blue features 136 wooded campsites, all within walking distance of the beach at Webb lake. The campground has several full bathroom facilities, a boat launch and boat rentals, amphitheater, nature center, and a playground. The campground is family and pet friendly. For information about camping, or to make a reservation call 800-332-1501 if you're in state OR 207-624-9950 from outside Maine. You can also go online to www.campwithme.com.

Across the shore from Webb beach is the park's center piece, the 3,187 foot Mt. Blue. The mountain features an exceptional hike with rewarding views at the top, which can be further appreciated from the vantage point of a fire tower at the top. Read more about it on page 19 of the activities section. Mt. Blue is just one of several mountains in the park and surrounding area for hiking. The most popular is Tumbledown, which has many different trails, including the loop trail, and the Little Jackson hike. At the top of Tumbledown, is a natural alpine lake. Other hikes in the area include Bald Mountain and Blueberry Mountain.

The state park is a great place to enjoy a picnic. Check out Center Hill for a scenic picnic spot. The Nature Center features guided walks and canoe trips, hands-on exhibits, displays and nature programs. Visitors rent kayaks and canoes at the Webb Lake Welcome Station. In the winter, the park has hills for sledding, and an outdoor ice rink. The trail system in the park can be enjoyed by walkers, snowshoers, equestrians, snowmobilers, cross-country skiers, and ATV riders.

RANGELEY LAKE STATE PARK

I State Park Road, Rangeley

In the beautiful heart of Maine's lakes and mountains region, lives the Rangeley Lake State Park

Visitors to the park are able to fish and hunt, picnic and camp, hike, watch for wildlife and swim in the crystal clear waters of Rangeley Lake. The park is open every day from 9am until sunset in May through October. Even in the fall and winter months, folks can enjoy the park by walking through the gates after parking outside during the same hours. The State Park is about 900 acres of classic Maine wilderness and features 33 miles of shoreline.

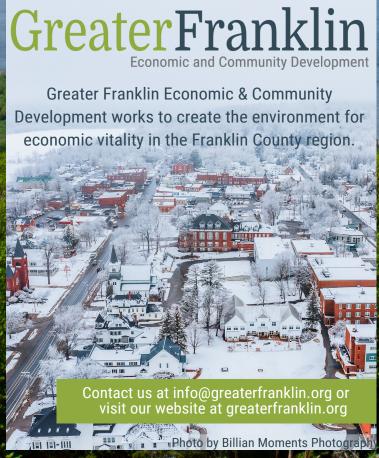

Rangeley Lake State park is a wonderful place to camp in season. With 50 spacious sites on the lake, campers can enjoy marvelous views of Saddleback Mountain. Within the park there is the picnic area, a playground, showers, a boat launch. For advanced reservations contact the State Park Reservations Office. They can be reached in state at 800-332-1501. If you're calling from outside of Maine, call 207-624-9950. You can reserve online at campwithme.com. The park also offers special events, so be sure to check their calendar for a list and dates for any of those. Events include youth programs, nature walks and talks and enjoying a cup of coffee with the park rangers.

Traditions of hunting and fishing have been established since the 1860's, when word of the regions trout and salmon population began to spread. Guides and camp services began to take root in the area and the traditions still stand to this day due to a strong commitment to preservation practices, including catch-and-release for fishermen. Rangeley Lake is a great place to canoe, kayak or operate a motorized boat. The nine mile lake has a depth of 149 feet at its deepest point. The refreshing water is also great place to swim.

Moose Country Corridor trail is seven-tenths of a mile, running from the control station back through the entrance road. This mellow walk is great for enjoying the scenery of Maine, the quiet of the woods and maybe spotting some unique birds and other wildlife. The Shoreline Trail is just under a mile. This travels along the lakeside, comes to the park's swimming area and ends with stunning views of Saddleback Mountain, in a perfect spot for a picnic lunch.

For maps and guides of the park visit the State Parks page on the maine.gov website or stop by the Franklin County Chamber of Commerce for more information at 615 Wilton Rd. Farmington.

SCENIC ATTRACTIONS

ANGEL FALLS

Bemis Road off Rte. 17, Township E.

Angel Falls is a 90-foot waterfall on Mountain Brook in Township D - northwest of Houghton - in the White Mountains of Franklin County, Maine. Angel Falls, one of Maine's tallest and most unique waterfalls, has a 90-foot "hanging" plunge and is comparable in height with Moxie Falls in Forks Township. In high water, the cascading water creates the shape of an angel's wing giving the falls its name

From the parking area, walk north along Bemis Road a short way. The trail leaves Bemis Road at a sign marking the trailhead and descends along a dirt road into a gravel pit. Walk through the gravel pit (past a large boulder), then continue following red blazes on an old dirt road. Shortly, the trail reaches Berdeen Stream, which must be forded. Use caution when crossing streams during high water as stepping stones are often submerged or very slippery. After crossing Berdeen Steam, the trail continues left on a dirt road, and then proceeds up through the woods to Mountain Brook. The trail follows Mountain Brook upstream and crosses three times on rock hops (use caution), then rises sharply on the south bank immediately before arriving at the falls. Length: 1.4 miles, Round Trip

Activities: areas for swimming, hiking, picnicking, restrooms

BIGELOW PRESERVE PUBLIC RESERVED LAND

W Flagstaff Rd, Stratton

Located in western Maine just east of the village of Stratton about 40 miles north of Farmington, Bigelow Preserve includes over 36,000 acres of public land. The preserve encompasses the entire Bigelow Range, which includes seven summits. The highest of these at 4,150 feet is West Peak, one of only 10 Maine summits over 4,000 feet in elevation. Bounded on the north by 20,000-acre Flagstaff Lake, the preserve offers many opportunities for outdoor recreation.

Fall foliage can be viewed from the roads and trails. Hunting and trapping opportunities range from easy vehicle access to foot access only in the backcountry areas. Fishing is plentiful in many small ponds and brooks. Winter visitors enjoy snowmobiling and cross country skiing over 20 miles of designated trails. Activities: areas for fishing, swimming, camping, cross country skiing snowmobiling, hunting, trapping

HEIGHT OF LAND SCENIC OVERLOOK

Rte. 17, Rangeley

A fantastic scenic overlook not to be missed! Stunning views of Mooselookmeguntic and Upper Richardson lakes, Toothaker Island and the richly forested mountainsides. Travelers search for moose that frequent the region's roadsides feeding on tender grasses, leaves and branches. This is also an excellent route for viewing foliage in the autumn when the surrounding mountainsides are painted vivid orange, yellow and red.

HIGH PEAKS REGION

It is roughly bounded by State Route 4 to the southwest, State Route 16 to the northwest, State Route 16/27 to the northeast and State Route 142 to the southeast. The region contains eight of the 14 Maine 4,000-footers and includes 21,000 acres (85 km2) above 2,700 feet (820 m). The Appalachian Trail runs through the High Peaks, unbroken by roads for more than 30 miles.

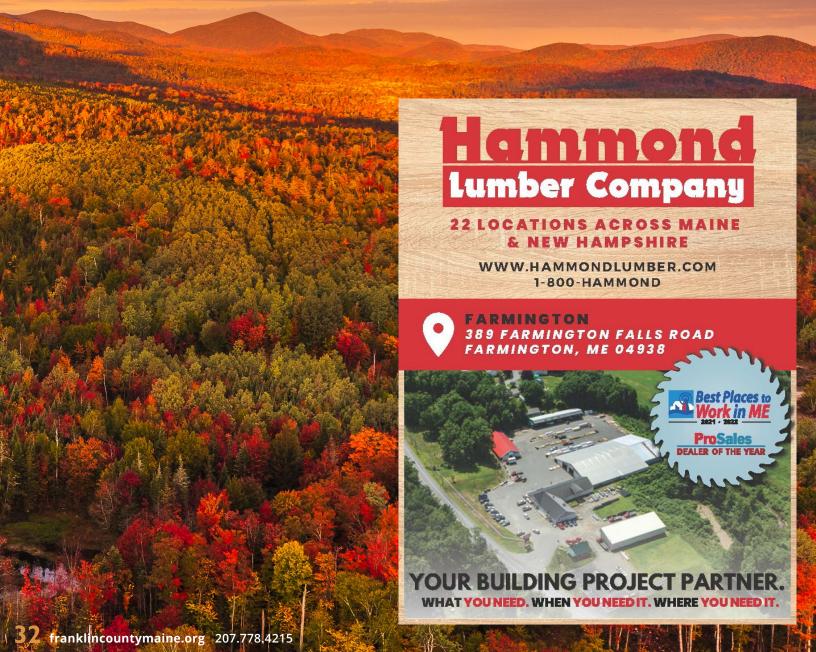

SMALLS FALLS - REST AREA

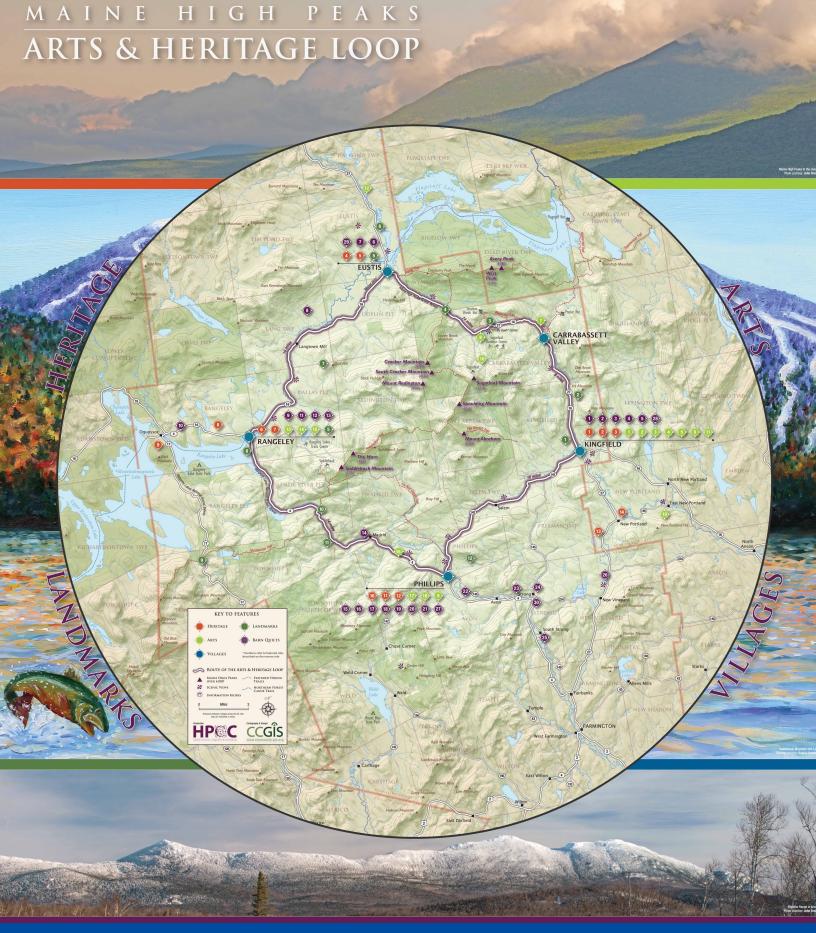

Rte. 4, Sandy River in Township E.

Smalls Falls, a scenic waterfall, colorful gorge, and fine swimming holes is part of a small rest area off of the scenic byway part of Rt 4 between Madrid and Rangeley. It features a picnic area with grills, public restrooms, and a 0.1 mile unmarked uphill trail beside some beautiful waterfalls on the Sandy River. It does not take much water flow to make this waterfall impressive enough to please all its visitors. Just a tiny stream can create a false sense of whitewater power. This is attributable to the fact that the river upstream is considerably wider than the width of water that flows over the four sets of falls at Smalls Falls.

The bottom of Smalls Falls consists of a 3-foot cascade falling into a 20-foot wide circular pool. The next waterfall up is a 14-foot fanning horsetail with a deep oblong-shaped pool. Even further up the trail, you will find a 25-foot segmented waterfall, with a plunge on the left and segmented horsetail on the right. The top waterfall is a 12-foot horsetail and slide. Beyond the final falls of Small Falls lies tiny plunges and cascades with equally clear and beautiful water.

All four sets of falls are found within one of most colorful and beautiful gorges in the region. Its colors consist of beiges, oranges, greens, blacks, browns, gold, and ivory. There are plenty of places to sit along the gorge walls and bask in the beauty of the area.

HIGH PEAKS CREATIVE COUNCIL
The High Peaks Creative Council (HPCC) is non-profit organization formed in 2012. It is a non-profit networking organization made up of representatives from fifteen arts, heritage, and cultural organizations in North Franklin County.
The HPCC mission is to connect regional arts and cultural organizations around creative public projects that benefit the quality of life and supports resiliency in the local economy. The HPCC created a regional cultural plan, designed an online and printed cultural asset map, built five cultural kiosks, and created a community made public art trail. The intent of the barn quilt trail is to celebrate rural traditions, engage youth and families in the process, encourage tourists to move through a rural landscape, and link into the national American Barn Quilt Trail. This map and guide is provided free of charge as a service of the High Peaks Creative Council with the goal of enhancing the experience of those interested in exploring Maine's high peaks. If you find it useful and would like to make a tax-deductible donation, please visit www.highpeaksmaine.org or mail your donation to: High Peaks Creative Council 4 Maple Lane, Avon, Maine 04966 ranklin Couny is rich in arts and cultural events. The epicenter of this activity is the shiretown, Farmington and in particular the University of Maine at Farmington. UMF has the new Emery Community Arts Center and the historically significant Nordica Auditorium for art exhibits, folk music, classical music, theater performances, cabaret, lectures, poetry, dance, and much more.

Concerts and other cultural events held at either the Emery Community Arts Center or in Nordica Auditorium at UMF's Merrill Hall are often sponsored by ArtsFarmington, an affiliate of UMF. ArtsFarmington has a volunteer board of community members who's mission is "to inspire, enrich, educate and entertain the communities of the greater Farmington area by presenting a broad array of affordable, high-quality arts events." Other concert series in the community are sponsored by the Farmington Historical Society at the North Church, and by and at Old South Congregational Church.

There is an active community theater group, The Sandy River Players, that stage performances at UMF's Alumni Theater and as well as other local venues. The Old Crow Band, a community based band, is busy throughout the summer. The Teachers Lounge Mafia, an improvisational comedy group, livens up many area gatherings.

Upcountry Artists, a non-profit group dedicated to encourage, support, educate artists and develop public awareness of the arts in Western Maine, has a gallery and learning center in Farmington. They sponsor the county's most significant Art Show at Sugarloaf Mountain on Columbus Day weekend and offer scholarships to local students.

For the youth of the area, our schools are alive with activity. Mt. Blue High School (RSU 9) is known for a strong music curriculum including an acapella group, chamber and show choir, band, jazz band, orchestra, as well as the Franklin County Fiddlers. In the summer, students may learn and perform with the Sandy River Players and the Mt. Blue Music Boosters Summer Theater camps. The Maine Jazz Camp, in Farmington for two weeks in July, draws students from all over North America and offers daily faculty concerts free to the public.

Kingfield hosts the annual Kingfield POPS, a summer art festival that culminates in an outdoor concert that brings people from around the state and beyond to enjoy a family-friendly evening of music and entertainment with the Bangor Symphony Orchestra. Kingfield is also home to several art galleries and the High Peaks Artisan Guild which features a collective of artisans from western Maine spanning many mediums.

Arts Inspire!

ARTSFARMINGTON

NORDICA HOMESTEAD MUSEUM

116 Nordica Lane, Farmington, ME 04938

Giglio Nordica (1857-1914), born Lillian Norton in Farmington, was the most glamorous American opera singer in history, and the first to attain true international prominence. One of Farmington's most famous citizens is commemorated in the Nordica Homestead Museum, the family home. As Lillian Nordica, she became an opera star at the turn of the century. She was one of the first Americans to become a world-class diva recognized in Europe for her power and artistry. At the museum, one can see costumes Madame Nordica wore in her productions and memorabilia of her career. There's a wealth of musical history in this small building, as well as info on the incredible life and tragic death of this superstar of the early 1900s. The building was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1969. Open: June 1st - Sept 15th 1-5 PM Tues - Sun www.lilliannordica.com

RED SCHOOL HOUSE MUSEUM

292 High St, Farmington, ME 04938

The Little Red Schoolhouse, also known as Briggs Schoolhouse, is a historic schoolhouse in Farmington. The one-room wood-frame schoolhouse was built in 1852, was used for classes until 1958. Today the Museum is displayed as the original schoolhouse with some of the original desks, books, and other memorabilia. It originally stood on the Wilton Road (Maine State Route 4) at Red Schoolhouse Road. It is one of the community's few surviving district school buildings. It was then used as a space for special needs students before being finally closed in 1969. It was moved to the Franklin Agricultural Society Fairgrounds on High Street in 2007. It underwent restoration and officially opened to the public during the annual Farmington Fair. The building was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1972. Open weekends: July - Aug II AM - 3 PM

KINGFIELD HISTORICAL SOCIETY

45 High St, Kingfield, ME

The Kingfield Historical House retains much of the detailed signature work of the Victorian era and its Scotch Firetube Steam Boiler is one of a very few still in existence. The house is filled with 19th and 20th century furniture, dishware, photographs, and paintings, tools, school yearbooks, and collections from families abound. The Mercantile, located on the first floor of the barn, is complete with a country store, barber shop, pharmacy, and post office. A working forge is located in the basement area, under the kitchen. A large, high quality textile collection is located on the second floor.

Chester Greenwood Day

Jomas Performing Arts Cente

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2, 2023

ark your calendar for Saturday December 2, 2023 as the Franklin County Chamber of Commerce, local businesses, and residents celebrate the 47th annual Chester Greenwood Day. The day-long celebration includes an hour long parade through Farmington's downtown, gingerbread house contest, horse drawn carriage rides, craft fairs, historical open houses, a 5k run/walk, the Farmington Rotary's Festival of Trees, and the annual Polar Dip at Clearwater Lake in Industry.

The Taste of Farmington has been an exciting addition to Chester Greenwood Day. Participants purchase a passport for an opportunity to taste samples from many local eateries. After a walk around town to visit these restaurants, tasters vote on their favorite.

The first Saturday in December marks a day-long celebration of Chester Greenwood, a Farmington native who is best known for inventing earmuffs. Chester was fifteen years old when he designed his first pair of ear protectors out of wire, beaver fur, and cloth. At the age of nineteen, he acquired a U.S. patent and by the time he was 28, the Chester Greenwood and Company factory was producing and shipping his champion ear protectors worldwide. In its busiest year the company produced 400,000 pairs of earmuffs.

As you stroll through the downtown area, you will see people of all ages having great fun while shopping, enjoying food from the wonderful eateries, or enjoying a scenic horse and buggy ride through the downtown area. You may even run into one of Chester's family members, as many make the trip to Farmington each year to participate in the parade and visit with relatives who still live locally.

The Farmington Rotary's Festival of trees includes an all-day viewing of trees decorated by local business and organizations in a theme of their choosing. In the evening the trees are auctioned off at a gala event with trees going to the highest bidder. The trees are then delivered, decorations and tree stand included, to each recipients home.

Chester Greenwood Day brings thousands of people to the area to watch and/or participate in all the events scheduled for the day. Don't worry about the cold temperatures that can be had this time of year pack your earmuffs and warm up at one of the many indoor activities planned. Contact the Franklin County Chamber of Commerce for more information on day-long activities or to register for the parade, Taste of Farmington, or the gingerbread house contest.

2022 Chamber Awards Meeting

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR

RIVERSIDE GREENHOUSE AND FLORIST

The Business of the Year award recognizes a business or organization that maintains good employee relations, demonstrates exceptional customer service, exhibits evidence of continued success and future growth, and promotes and contributes to the economic growth of Franklin County. This year's winner was Riverside Greenhouse and Florist. It is great to see a business that has been around for years continue to grow with the next generation. The owner and his staff are always pleasant and helpful and have built working relationships with surrounding businesses to offer new and exciting products. They have become very active in the community and have donated to many events when asked.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

FOWL - FRIENDS OF WILSON LAKE

The Community Service award honors an outstanding chamber member business or organization who generously gives time, resources or expertise to the community making a difference in Franklin County. This award was presented to Friends of Wilson Lake. Since 1989 many projects focused on the protection of Wilson Lake and its watershed have been conducted. It started in 1993 with a survey of the lake properties and has included many services and partnerships like the current research buoy project with UMF. With 30 waterfront properties participating in the Lake smart program and over one thousand courtesy boat inspections for invasive plants and species every year, they have made sure the lake has a strong future. Courtesy boat rides and yearly scholarships have been offered since 1997 to promote Wilson Lake and the surrounding community.

PRESIDENT'S CHOICE

FOOD CITY - LEE NILE, MANAGER OF 3 STORES

The President's Award is presented to a business with a combination of achievements, community service, chamber involvement and business leadership. The President's Award allows recognition of one of our members who is deserving of having their overall efforts acknowledged. The President's Award was presented to Lee Nile. Food City continually goes above and beyond to support the Franklin County Community. Whether they are providing food boxes for the Gerry Wiles Holiday Baskets, donating to youth sports or the arts they do so with a generous heart while encouraging community involvement at all levels by their employees. This level of local commitment is to be admired.

Scholarship Golf Classic

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 2023

he Franklin County Chamber of Commerce is once again teaming up with Seth Wescott to host the 21st Annual Golf Classic. This event will be held at the beautiful Sugarloaf Golf Course in Carrabassett Valley in the fall of 2023.

Proceeds from this signature event support both the Franklin County Chamber of Commerce Scholarship Fund and Wescott's Level Field Fund. The purpose of the Chamber's David Robie Scholarship is to encourage continuing higher education for Franklin County residents through financial assistance. The Level Field Fund strives to bridge gaps in funding for uniquely talented athletes, following the belief that opportunities to pursue excellence in sport should not be limited by an athlete's financial situation.

This exciting day of golfing concludes with a lunch at The Rack with awards and fun! Various contests will be ongoing throughout the day including a hole in one, closest to the pin, great raffle prizes and more!

We hope to see you next year at the 21st annual golf classic. For more information on this event or to register a team, contact the Franklin County Chamber of Commerce office at info@franklincountymaine.org or (207) 778-4215.

ECONOMIC & COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Expanding Business in Franklin County

Franklin County is a rural business hub with many opportunities for investment, growth, and development. UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

At Farmington

Established more than 150 years ago as the state's first public institution of higher education, the University of Maine at Farmington (UMF) is Maine's nationally-recognized public liberal arts college. Rooted in a tradition of teacher preparation, UMF offers quality programs in teacher education, the arts and sciences, health and human services and pre-professional studies.

The university offers bachelor's, master's, and certificate programs and pathways for students to move easily from undergraduate programs to a growing number of leading graduate degree offerings.

UMF has earned a national reputation for excellence. Rated one of America's Best Colleges and recognized for Best Undergraduate Teaching by U.S. News & World Report, UMF was also named a "Best College for Your Money" by Money magazine, a "Top 100 Best Value College" by Educate to Career and a "Top Green College" by the Princeton Review. Since 2006, seven UMF Education graduates have been named "Maine State Teacher of the Year."

UMF student-teachers work in K-12 schools throughout Franklin County and beyond, with mentoring provided by university faculty and a mentor-teacher in the field. UMF's nationally accredited Sweatt-Winter Child Care and Early Education Center is on track to open in early summer 2023 at its new location at 274 Front St. in Farmington. The state-of-the-art learning lab will double the current building's square footage and open up 20 new slots for high-quality infant and toddler care. It will also allow enrollment in UMF's undergraduate and graduate early childhood education programs to expand by at least 20% to help support critical state workforce needs.

Located in downtown Farmington, the 1,650-student campus lies at the heart of the local K-12 school district and adds to a vibrant college-town atmosphere. In fact, The Washington Post named Farmington the "Collegiest town in Maine" thanks to UMF's close-knit connection with the town it calls home. An example of its community partnership is the UMF Fitness & Recreation Center, which is open to area residents seven days a week, year-round. The facility features a fully-equipped weight room, a cardio fitness area with the latest machines and equipment, three multi-purpose courts, a 1/8-mile walkingjogging track, and a 6-lane 25-yard swimming pool.

The UMF Fitness Center offers Franklin County residents countless fitness classes, professional trainers, swim lessons for all ages, children's and senior's programs and programming for those with special needs. Through its Mainely Outdoors program, the facility offers residents and UMF students the opportunity to participate in a wide range of outdoor activities: evening bike rides, kayak and canoe trips, moonlight snowshoeing, Nordic skiing, trail hikes and more.

The university helps establish the Franklin County area as the arts and cultural hub of the region. UMF hosts concerts, lectures, debates, films, readings, comedy nights, and a wide range of other cultural and educational offerings year-round. If athletics are a draw, UMF—home of "Chompers," UMF's beaver mascot—is the place to be. Farmington's youth soccer program and area sports camps are held at UMF's Prescott Athletic Fields and Fitness & Recreation Center. The public is always welcome to cheer on UMF's baseball, basketball, cross-country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, alpine and Nordic skiing, snowboarding, soccer, softball, rugby, track and field, and Ultimate Frisbee teams.

UMF's Gold LEAF Institute Senior College provides lifelong learning opportunities for area adults, aged 50 and older. The program offers invigorating classes, lectures, presentations, field trips and social interaction. The University's Mantor Library is open to the public year-round and residents of Franklin County are welcome to use the library's internet access, browse its periodicals collection, and make use of its other holdings and spaces, including its first-floor coffee bar.

MT. BLUE CAMPUS

Mt. Blue Campus provides students and adults in the Greater Franklin County area with a facility that aims to meet the needs of all learners. Featured as a "community building," this complex is the location of many educational and civic events. The Mt. Blue Campus (MBC) houses three major organizations: Mt. Blue High School, Foster Career and Technical Education Center, and Franklin County Adult and Community Education Center.

At Mt. Blue High School, students can participate in a variety of courses and offerings that meet the needs of their interests and pathways. Students can craft schedules that include career and technical education programs, dual enrollment college classes on site or at the University of Maine at Farmington campus, as well as our high school core courses and electives. We strive to support students in creating a unique and integrated learning pathway through their secondary school experiences.

We are also proud of the abundance of co-curricular and extra-curricular offerings that enhance our students' learning experiences. Our celebrated music program touts the largest orchestra in the State of Maine, as well as several ensembles that provide students with the opportunity to showcase their talents beyond the classroom. Our many athletic opportunities allow students to choose individual and team sports experiences, and we are proud to celebrate the success of our Nordic and Alpine ski programs, which have earned a record-setting number of state championships training and competing at our local Titcomb Mountain.

At Foster Career and Technical Education Center (Foster CTE Center), programs provide students with an experiential, real-world approach to education. High school students can move seamlessly between their high school courses, college classes, and career pathway programs. The center offers 21 programs that range from Robotics, Composites Manufacturing, Biotechnology, Automotive Technology, Metal Fabrication, Certified Nursing Assistant to others in high demand occupations. Students have the opportunity to obtain state and national certifications as well as a potential 131 college credits among the various programs. Qualifying students (Juniors/Seniors) have the opportunity to participate in the Bridge Academy Program which enables them to complete a full year of college credits upon graduation. Also integrated into all of our programs, is a school to work component to include internships, job shadows, pre-apprenticeships and apprenticeships that take place within our local business community. Students completing Foster CTE Center programs go on to post-secondary education and training or go directly into the workforce with the skills and certifications that give them a competitive advantage.

The Franklin County Adult & Community Education Program is an integral component of helping to meet the educational needs of our students and citizens in Franklin County. We provide programming from basic literacy to high school equivalency (HiSET) preparation and testing. We also prepare people to enter community colleges and universities through our successful College Transitions Program. We partner with local agencies and businesses in helping prepare adults with skills for the 21st-century work world. The workforce training program offers career and skill training. We have online class options, video conferencing capabilities, and technology programming. Additionally, we offer many certificate and enrichment classes to over 2000 residents in the community.

31 Community Drive Jay, ME 04239

The consolidated Jay, Livermore and Livermore Falls school system that includes Spruce Mountain High School, a class B school, was founded when Livermore Falls High School and Jay High School combined in 2012. The colors and mascot of Spruce Mountain High School were chosen by students of Livermore Falls and Jay High Schools. The mascot, the Phoenix, symbolizes "rising from the ashes" of the two former schools. The name Spruce Mountain comes from the ski slope that for generations, students from both high schools have skied at, making it a very appropriate name for the school.

A $1.8 million renovation of Spruce Mountain high and middle schools, and the community building, all in Jay, took place in the summer of 2013 to provide additional classrooms, bathrooms and offices. Also included are a larger cafeteria, a connector between the high and middle schools, and technology and handicapped-accessibility updates.

The expanded lineup of Farmington Farmers' Market Association vendors for the 2023 season is an exciting prospect for local market customers. From the farms of all our members right to the plates on your table, there is something to interest everyone at our farmers' markets!

Our two markets are happening every week from May through October right downtown - Fridays from 10am - 1pm down on Front Street across from the Better Living Center, and Saturdays from 9am - 12pm on Main Street in the District Courthouse parking lot. Visit on both days to browse different vendor offerings of fresh vegetables and fruits, jams and preserves, soaps and lotions, plants, herbs, art, and artisan works - all grown and made right here in our own western Maine community!

All our market members feel very proud to help fulfill the purpose of the Farmington Farmers' Market by providing the people of the Western Maine Mountain Region with the ability to purchase a variety of high-quality, locally grown and produced foods. We also want the public to know that we have adopted safety guidelines and operation standards for our market and for our members which we hope will help inspire public confidence in the concept of farmers' markets, especially during these challenging times.

The Farmington Farmers' Markets also help to strengthen the local farm economy and the viability of small-scale family farms by giving our members the ability to offer their retail products directly to local customers. These important connections between market members and market-goers also help everyone in our community continue to foster an appreciation for Maine's rural resources.

Check out all of our farms' descriptions and links on the adjacent page!

Savings Bank

Banking is more than the numbers in your account and the rate of your loan—it's personal, and it's a lot more enjoyable with someone on your side.

Longstanding, multi-generation relationships are what we do best, built with individual understanding and local support. We'll remember your name while we support your unique banking needs. Our relationship with you is at the center of everything we do.
